

RABQSA International Announces Food Safety Certification Now Available in North America

Milwaukee, USA: RABQSA International is pleased to announce the expansion of the Food Safety Auditor Certification Scheme in North America. The competency-based personnel certification scheme is designed to recognize the knowledge, skills and personal attributes of Food Safety auditors through RABQSA examination and assessment processes.

"We are excited at the added value that this scheme creates within the North American food safety industry," said RABQSA President and CEO Michael K. Carmody. "RABQSA certification will provide confidence to the Food Safety industry that RABQSA certified auditors have the appropriate competencies to ensure that the required audit outcomes are being achieved."

The expansion comes following the addition of Training Providers that offer the Food Safety knowledge examination in the region. A list of RABQSA Training Providers who offer Food Safety auditor training can be found on our website at www.rabqsa.com (under Search Registers).
