

RABQSA Announces Certification Policy for Training Providers in Brazil

Milwaukee, Seoul, Sydney and Rio de Janeiro, Today RABQSA International, Inc (RABQSA) announced an opportunity for Brazil's certified Training Providers to have their training courses formally recognized as RABQSA-certified through a simple Transition Process.

The Transition Process aims to address local expectations and to enable a direct approach between RABQSA and the Brazilian market. The process was developed for QMS, EMS and OHS Lead Auditor Training Courses.

This unique opportunity became possible after a comprehensive equivalence exercise was completed over the past few months. The Transition Process is simple and will allow for CIC-RAC's Training Providers' courses to be certified by RABQSA in a very short time.

"RABQSA is very pleased to offer our training certification services into the Brazilian market and look forward to developing long-term relationships with the Brazilian training industry," stated Michael K. Carmody, RABQSA President and CEO.

RABQSA's International Office located in Rio de Janeiro will facilitate the Transition Process. Interested Training Providers should complete the form "RABQSA Training Provider Transition Application Checklist" available at www.rabqsa.com and www.competentpeople.com.br and follow the steps for submission.

The opportunity to transition to RABQSA certification expires on November 30, 2008.
