

RABQSA Announces the development of Veridion's Business Continuity (BC) Competency Unit.

Milwaukee, Seoul and Sydney: RABQSA International Inc. (RABQSA) in conjunction with Veridion, Inc., is pleased to announce the development of the Business Continuity Competency Unit (RABQSA-BC).

The RABQSA-BC Competency Unit was developed to address the growing interest in the training and examination of BS 25999 and Business Continuity Management System (BCMS) principles. The BCMS market calls for competent professionals who will be able to answer the implementation and audit needs of IT organizations worldwide.

Rene St.-Germain, President of Veridion says: "Increasing numbers of organizations recognise the need for BCMS. This may be driven by customers, regulators, statutory requirements or even a desire to improve organizational governance. We are extremely proud to bring our contribution to the business continuity community by sharing our vision, leadership and experience with professionals through the Unit."

The BC Competency Unit is a new scope included in RABQSA's Training Provider Examination Scheme (TPECS), which underpins the examination of knowledge-based competencies specific to the RABQSA competency-based personnel certification schemes.

Further details on the RABQSA BC competency unit are available on the RABQSA website at www.rabqsa.com.
