

Would You Like to be Internationally Recognized?

[Would You Like To Be Internationally Recognized?]

Your Training Provider is a certified organization under the RABQSA Training Provider and Examiner Certification Scheme (TPECS).

Upon successful completion of this course, you will be eligible for PROVISIONAL certification with RABQSA International.

RABQSA International is one of the world's leading personnel certification organizations accredited to ISO/IEC 17024:2003

RABQSA International provides you with:

- international recognition of your competency
- a certificate and ID card to confirm your certification
- a listing in the Personnel Certification Register on RABQSA's website
- subscription to the online quality industry magazine – emomentum
- access to professional development services and international business development

Provisional grade:

- recognizes that you have been assessed as competent in the knowledge-based competencies specific to your scheme
- does not require an application fee for certification

Other Personnel Certification grades are available to you, depending on your competency level.

Apply now! Ask your Training Provider to provide you with details for RABQSA provisional certification.

Please refer to our website (www.rabqsa.com) for further details regarding our services and products, including access to information on any of RABQSA's certification and professional development programs or to view our international register of auditors.

Innovative

Extensive range of industry based personnel and training provider certification for competent professionals

Internationally Focused

International recognition of your professional status based on your ability to provide value and relevance to today's business environment

Industry Engaged

Personnel certification and professional development opportunities developed by industry for industry

RABQSA International

info@rabqsa.com

www.rabqsa.com

Take The Next Step – Gain Recognition